Best Quality Products

SMOKE/REGULAR COPRA

Our high-quality smoked copra is produced from selected fresh coconut meat and dried using a controlled traditional smoking process to achieve optimal dryness and oil content. The product features a golden-brown color, firm texture, and is free from mold and harmful contaminants. With moisture content $\leq 6\%$, oil content $\geq 60\%$, and low free fatty acid (FFA) levels, our smoked copra ensures excellent stability, long shelf life, and high yield for coconut oil processing. Carefully handled and packed for export, this product is ideal for international buyers seeking reliable raw materials with consistent quality and performance.

PREMIUM BALL COPRA

Our premium ball copra is made from carefully selected fresh coconuts, processed into whole round copra and dried using a controlled smoking and sun-drying method to ensure consistent quality. The product has a uniform ball shape, clean brown color, and a hard, compact texture, making it resistant to breakage during handling and transport. With moisture content $\leq 6\%$, oil content $\geq 60\%$, and low free fatty acid (FFA) levels, ball copra delivers high oil yield, long shelf life, and excellent stability for coconut oil processing. Properly sorted and export-packed, our ball copra is a reliable and high-performance raw material for international markets.

SEMI HUSKED COCONUT

Our premium semi husked coconut is produced from selected fresh coconuts that are harvested at optimal maturity levels, producing coconut meat that is clean white, thick, and has a natural taste. Processed hygienically with strict quality control, this product is free from mold, foreign odors and physical damage, making it safe and consistent for the export market. Semi husked coconut is available in uniform sizes with an average weight of 0.3-0.5 kg per nut, >0.5 - 1 kg per nut and > 1 kg per nut, has a balanced water content, and a shelf life of up to 2-3 months in cold storage. Packaged securely for last-mile delivery, this product is ideal for the needs of the food industry, modern retail and international distributors who require high-quality, sustainable supplies.

COCONUT SHELL CHARCOAL

Our premium coconut shell charcoal is produced from carefully selected coconut shells to ensure consistent quality and performance. It features high fixed carbon content ($\geq 75\%$), low ash content ($\leq 3\%$), low moisture ($\leq 5\%$), and delivers long-lasting, stable heat with minimal smoke and odor. The charcoal has a dense structure, uniform size, and high calorific value, making it ideal for shisha, BBQ, and industrial applications. Packed securely for long-distance shipment, our coconut shell charcoal offers an eco-friendly, reliable, and export-ready solution for international buyers seeking consistent quality and performance.
